

Y off with their recent police blotter item from the Williamson County Sun in Georgetown, Texas. "Police arrested a 27-year-old teen specialist at a grocery store at 12:46 a.m. on charges of public lewdness. An employee found the customer in an aisle with his shorts pulled down around his ankles. The man was bent over, inserting a can of Big and Sexy hair spray lubricated with Sassy lotion into his rectum. He was taken to jail."

May I have the law word on traffic tickets? I am a lawyer who used to be a highway patrol officer and traffic-court marshal. In October a reader said he had persuaded a judge to toss his ticket by arguing that his speed had not been unsafe. That defense only works in states that have presumed speed limits. Some have absolute limits—over nine miles per hour and you're guilty. Others have absolute limits on freeways but presumed limits elsewhere. As for avoiding a ticket, you should never attempt to manipulate an officer, because it creates resentment. This includes women who shift their clothing to reveal their assets and drivers who threaten to waste the cop's time if seized very loose. What's your opinion?—S.B., Dallas, Texas

The idea that orgasm always bleed is an ancient, stubborn and bogus belief. In many cases, the orgasm doesn't produce much blood (if any) when it breaks, or it stretches but remains intact, or it breaks naturally before sex, or the woman doesn't have one to begin with. There's no reliable way to tell if a woman is a virgin.

I can't seem to find a condom that fits. The local pharmacies carry Trojan and LifeStyles brands, but not much else. Can the Advisor offer any guidance?—G.B., Duluth, Minnesota

We know how you feel. It's a curse. If standard condoms are snug, switch to Crown (also popular because it's thin), Maxx, Magnum, Magnum XL or Trojan Large. You can order online from Condoms.com. Its most recent best-seller is the Trojan Extended Pleasure, which is coated inside with benzocaine to increase staying power. Many men also prefer condoms with more lubrication, such as Natural or Pleasure Plus.

My relationship just ended an 18-month relationship. I was happy and sad. I want to rest and than my left. By the way, my neighbor is gay. Is this for real, or is he just trying to get a visual on my husband's cock?—M.M., Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

There's absolutely nothing in what your neighbor told you, although we'd care to hear to hear the details. And your husband would love if you checked again.

While helping my girlfriend move, I watched as she got into a shouting match with one of the two movers. I didn't take sides but tried to cool everyone down and get the job finished. My girlfriend said I should have stood up to them. I have no doubt the guy wanted me to say something so he could challenge me to a fight. Both guys were larger than me and I'd have had a tough time against one of them, let alone two. What is the best way to handle a situation when you are confronted by someone with large muscles and a tiny brain?—A.L., Las Vegas, Nevada

You handled it well. Your girlfriend needs to learn some management skills. We're not sure what the guy did to put her off but we can help. You're larger, stronger, dumber and in close range of everything she owns. Do your

PLAYBOY

vol. 49, no. 1—January 2002

contents

- features
- 70 THE TERRORIST DOLLAR
Access to hundreds of money bars: out to be the key to unmaking global terror. Chris who's climbed into bed with the Mob? BY JEFFREY ROBINSON
 - 90 TABLOID TSAR
Under Steve Coz's guidance, the National Enquirer denied the mainstream, breaking stories on O.J., Jesse Jackson and the Clintons. His reporters foraged out the world's dirty secrets. But what happens when the unfeeling, un-attackable, happens inside your own building? BY JOE DOLCE
 - 94 OCEAN'S 11
The 1960 Rat Pack never removed the whimsical documentary of cool. With the remake set for release, we go back to where the fun started and those crazy nights at the Copacabana. BY BILL BRIDGE
- only that attracts more than 200 million couples from around the world (for information, visit lifestyles-overseas.com). If your experience is typical, you'll form a clique of a clique with just you.
- Can a woman lose her hymen before sex and not know it? I met my wife as a freshman in college, and she swore to me that she was a virgin. I believed her, but months later, when we finally had sex, there was no blood. In fact, she

December 1, New York became the first state to enact such a law.

Our neighbor owns a porn store, so he knows a bit about sex. The other day he asked me which way my labia hang. He said that whichever way my lips hang is the way my husband's cock hangs. I ran home, dragged my husband into the bedroom and put a life throat on him. Sure enough, his erection bends slightly to the right, and my right lip is larger personally discovered if the advice includes self-addressed, stamped envelopes. The most provocative, pertinent questions will be answered in three pages each month. Write the Playboy Advice PLAYBOY, 680 North Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60611, or send e-mail by cutting playboy@netcom.com. The Advisor's latest collection of sex tricks, Sex Tips to Improve Your Sex Life, is available in stores or by phoning 800-423-9499.